

ROOSEVELT HEARS FROM JAPS AGAIN

Baron Kaneko, Mikado's Special Representative, Goes to Oyster Bay.
ENVOYS READY TO QUIT.
Representatives of the Mikado Give Up Leased Safe and Ask for Bills.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Aug. 21.—An unexpected phase of the peace negotiations developed today in the arrival here of Baron Kaneko, special representative in this country of the Japanese Government, for a conference with President Roosevelt.

Baron Kaneko remained with the President three-quarters of an hour. He then drove back to Oyster Bay and started for New York.

Baron Kaneko said he had no information as to the attitude of the Russian envoys or the Russian Government toward the proposition made by President Roosevelt to Baron Rosen. He instructed that Japan might regard the proposition favorably, but could not say so definitely.

"I think we will know to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock, when the plenipotentiaries meet in Portsmouth," said he. "By that time they will have determined the matter."

"Do you mean they will have heard definitely from their governments by that time?"

"Yes, I assume so," the Baron replied.

President Roosevelt declines to discuss the peace negotiations in any way and authorized the statement that nothing would be published by him concerning the visit of Baron Kaneko.

JAPS PREPARE TO QUIT PORTSMOUTH.

By Samuel G. Blythe.
(Special to The Evening World.)
PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 21.—Much significance is attached here to the request of the Japanese envoys that all bills for which they are responsible must be presented before to-morrow morning.

Mr. Hartford, proprietor of two of the local newspapers and the manager of the opera-house rented to the Japanese envoys a large office safe in which to keep their documents, cipher books and other important papers.

Mr. Hartford was asked to go to the Hotel Wentworth from Portsmouth today. He was notified that the Japanese envoys did not desire to keep his safe after to-night and told that he could remove it to-morrow morning. He was also asked to present his bill for the rental of the safe and the expenses of moving it before to-night.

This is taken to indicate that the Japanese have decided that peace is no longer possible, and that they are making preparations for departure. If the negotiations were to continue the safe would be a necessity.

That view seems to be partly confirmed by statements made to-day by the envoys.

"The story that President Roosevelt proposed arbitration as a way out of our present difficulties is idle," said Mr. Witte, the Russian envoy.

"Arbitration is impossible," said Minister Takahira, the Japanese Minister.

These emphatic statements seem to dispose of the arbitration idea so widely promulgated last night. The fact is that the President urged a compromise.

CAMDEN, N. J., Aug. 21.—John J. Forney, fifty years old, proprietor of the St. James Hotel, No. 310 Race street, Philadelphia, committed suicide in the suburbs of Camden to-day.

He was out walking with his son, James, fifteen years, and his nephew, Jonathan Forney, seventeen. They had reached a bush lot at Thirty-third street and Highland avenue and the boys turned to pick blackberries. The next instant Forney put a revolver in his mouth and sent a bullet into his brain. He died in a few minutes.

He had been despondent from stomach troubles and pains in the head for months.

SULTAN ASKS HAND OF MISS ROOSEVELT

Ruler of Far Eastern Islands Proposes to President's Daughter.

HE NOW HAS SIX WIVES

Offer of Marriage Made During Young-Woman's Visit with Secretary Taft.

MANILA, Aug. 21.—As a fitting climax to the festivities given by the Sultan of Sulu and other Moro dignitaries in honor of Secretary of War Taft and Miss Roosevelt and their party, the Sultan has offered his hand in marriage to Miss Roosevelt and begged her to become Sultana of the Sulu Archipelago. In proffering her hand, the Sultan said that it was the earnest desire of his people that Miss Roosevelt remain among them.

Representative Longworth, of Cincinnati, who accompanied the party, also distinguished himself the day the Sultan asked for Miss Roosevelt's hand by saving the life of Frederick O'Brien, of the Cable News. Mr. O'Brien was seized with cramps while in bathing. Mr. Longworth, seeing his peril, brought Mr. O'Brien to shore at the risk of his own life.

The despatches from Jolo fail to say how Miss Roosevelt accepted the Sultan's personal proposal. For the benefit of Representative Longworth, who was standing by with Secretary Taft, she probably agreed to take the offer under consideration.

Sultan Has Six Wives.

As the Sultan already has six wives, it may be taken that his proffer of marriage to Miss Roosevelt was only a form of Oriental politeness. Miss Marie E. Sweet, of Denver, whose father was first Governor of Sulu, was honored by a proposal from the Sultan three years ago. She told him she would have to think it over. After her return to this country the Sultan sent her an elegant decoration of pearls and raised her by mail to the rank of Princess.

Miss Sweet's husband, Crawford, who came back with her an elegant souvenir of the Sultan's admiration, as gifts were lavishly bestowed on the members of Secretary Taft's party.

The Sultan is heavily interested in a pearl fishery concession and his personal gifts to those he especially admires usually take the form of elaborate strings of pearls.

Sultan Wore Pink Jacket.

Wonderfully picturesque festivities were arranged by the Moro leaders for the entertainment of the Taft party. The visitors on arriving in Jolo were escorted at once to the parade ground. With his retinue and other Moro dignitaries occupied seats in the grand stand with Secretary Taft and Miss Roosevelt.

The little Sultan wore his pink silk jacket sealed with pearls and fastened at the neck with a great crescent of pearls. His trousers were of striped silk caught at the waist with a brilliant silk sash, through which was stuck an ivory-handled bolo.

When he put up his slender little hands to adjust his turban of knotted silk, caught at the top with a brilliant sword, he was covered with a brilliant necklace of pearls and diamonds. He was also covered with a brilliant necklace of pearls and diamonds. He was also covered with a brilliant necklace of pearls and diamonds.

Native dances and mimic battle scenes were enacted by the natives and then came carabao and bull fights of an amusing but not bloodthirsty character.

The ceremony ended with a grand fete, during which the Sultan, with his Mahomatan politeness offered his hand and all he possessed to his fair guest.

After leaving Jolo the American party had an exciting adventure. Arriving at Wabang, the wagon transportation was found to be unsteady. Secretary Taft and Major-General Corbin called for volunteers to make the thirty-mile journey overland to Lake Lanao on horseback.

Miss Roosevelt was the first to volunteer, and Senators Foster, Scott and Patterson and thirty others of the party, including several other women, rode the entire distance.

"LEWIS JARVIS" IN COURT.

Lawyer Wickes Asks for Alimony in Famous McGinnis Case.

Thomas P. Wickes, counsel for Mrs. Florence C. McGinnis, who in the trial of the suit of her husband, Daniel J. McGinnis, for an absolute divorce last March was known as "Grandma," asked Justice Gleason in the Supreme Court to-day for alimony and counsel fees pending Mrs. McGinnis's appeal from the interlocutory decree awarded her husband by the court last May.

This is the first appearance in court of Mr. Wickes since his indictment for blackmail on the charge that he wrote the "Lewis Jarvis" letters by which he attempted to help his legal practice. He asked the court to grant Mrs. McGinnis $500 counsel fee, $300 expenses and alimony at the rate of $20 a week pending decision by the Appellate Division.

Decision was reserved.

No one can afford to miss the splendid literary treat offered in "My Love Affair," by Sophie Witte, sister of the Russian Peace Envoy. This great novel is appearing serially in The Evening World, the first chapter being printed to-day.

WILCOX RETURNS TUESDAY.

New York Postmaster Will Get Back from Europe.

William H. Wilcox, Postmaster, is expected home to-morrow on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. from his summer vacation in Europe. Assistant Postmaster Morgan and several heads of divisions have made arrangements to go down the bay on the mail steamer Postmaster General to greet him.

The Postmaster has been away for six weeks. He is accompanied by Mrs. Wilcox. While abroad he has inspected the postoffices of London, Berlin, Paris and St. Petersburg.

WEST SIDE HOUSE FLOODED.

The handsome residence of R. Mayo Smith, No. 235 West Seventy-seventh street, has been badly damaged by water. A water pipe in the wall at the second story broke several days ago, and since that time had been dripping the building. The family is at Belmont. The residence is being closed for the summer.

A watchman heard the noise of running water to-day and notified the police. Detective Coleman got a long ladder and entered by way of the second story.

The police placed the damage at $2,000.

BRYAN MAY GET FEES.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 21.—All litigation over the estate of Philo S. Bennett, a former merchant of New York City, of which William J. Bryan was executor, is believed to be ended by the filing to-day of a notice in Probate Court to the effect that an appeal of Mrs. Grace Imogene Bennett, the widow, and other heirs, to the allowance of Mr. Bryan's account, will be withdrawn.

The notice of an appeal had been entered for a hearing and to-day's action by the heirs was unexpected. The residuary legatees are Mrs. Bennett, Della A. Bennett, William J. Bryan, husband and wife, of Waterville, N. Y., and George A. Cable, of Yonkers, N. Y.

JEALOUS MAN KILLED WIFE AND HIMSELF

Wielded Razor and Butcher Knife as Men Hastened to Prevent the Deed.

BROCKTON, Mass., Aug. 21.—Letters received to-day from James W. Crawford, a shoemaker, saying that he intended to murder his wife and then kill himself brought a Brackton physician and a nephew of Crawford to the man's house here to-day and revealed the fact that the threat had been carried out.

With a razor and a butcher knife he had almost cut off his wife's head, and then had committed suicide by cutting his own throat with the razor. The woman's face was almost unrecognizable on account of lacerations.

The letters written by Crawford were received by Dr. A. L. Beale, of this city, and H. L. Robberly, of Auburn.

Besides finding the razor and butcher knife near the body, they discovered a note written by Crawford saying it was a case of murder and suicide because the husband was jealous. Crawford was fifty-three years old and his wife was the same age.

Medical Examiner A. E. Payne believes that the tragedy occurred early yesterday.

GUN COTTON BOMB IS SENT BY MAIL TO CAPT. O'REILLY.

McAdoo was informed of the attempt to blow up the captain and the station-house. Detectives from New York and Brooklyn were at once assigned to the case.

"I can't imagine who sent me this bomb," said O'Reilly. "It was about as dangerous as a bomb of its size could be and it was no bungling affair at that. Only the discovery of those nails in the bottom saved me from being blown to bits."

O'Reilly formerly commanded the Tenderloin Police Station. When he was in command in New York he made war on vice and vicious persons which gained for him many bitter enemies.

MAY EXPLAIN BOMBS SENT TO BANKERS

Philip A. Cowan, editor of the American Hebrew, with offices at No. 489 Fifth avenue, to-day made public the following letter, received by him three months ago, thinking that it may throw some light on the sender of the bombs to Jacob H. Schiff and Jacob H. Guggenheim & Co. The letter reads:

"I wish to notify you that a number of men of different nationalities, of good character and education, have formed a secret society and have chosen me for their leader. The object of the society will be to kill any Jew that is prominent or rich, or that in the future becomes prominent or rich in North or South America, unless such Jew changes his faith and becomes a Christian. We don't believe in letting a Jew go too far, as they have got beyond the limit of things, with their feigning to be poor, and begging for charity, while their money bags overflow, and all such dirty, low-down, inhuman tricks which they have and do now take great pleasure in performing."

"I, the leader of this society am a Russian and you can imagine what will happen under my rule. We will call ourselves—The Secret Society of the Oppressors of the Salfin, greatly Jews of the Western Hemisphere—formed Jan. 1, 1905, and we will begin our murder."

Miss Alice Roosevelt.

Of all the scores of people in the twenty families in the house these girls were the only ones to keep their heads, and the single policeman in the vicinity found them of great assistance.
